Adjudicator confirms decision to withhold certain records

An Adjudicator with the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner has confirmed a decision by Calian Ltd., to withhold certain information that had been requested by an individual.

The Applicant requested all personal information about him in the possession of Calian under the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA). Calian responded by providing certain records, but severed some information as either not responsive or that the information would reveal confidential information of a commercial nature or it would reveal personal information about another individual.

Following an inquiry into the matter Adjudicator Lisa McAmmond confirmed the decision to withhold severed records. She also found that Calian had conducted an adequate search for the records at the time of the inquiry.
