I. BACKGROUND

[para 1] An Applicant made an access request dated September 29, 2016 to Treasury Board and Finance (Public Body) under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the Act). The Public Body acknowledged receipt of the request by letter dated October 4, 2016. The Public Body provided a fee estimate of $2200.50 to the Applicant by letter dated October 18, 2016. That letter informed the Applicant that the processing of the request would cease until the Public Body received the Applicant's deposit ($1100.25). The letter also stated that if the Applicant did not respond to the Public Body by November 17, 2016, the request would be considered abandoned.

[para 2] The Public Body received a fee waiver request from the Applicant on November 7, 2016. By letter dated January 19, 2017, the Public Body informed the Applicant that it was waiving 100% of the fees, and that the processing of his request would recommence.

[para 3] In its letter to the Applicant, the Public Body provided the following circumstances that supported its decision to waive the fees (emphasis added):

- The Applicant worked with TBF FOIP Office to narrow the request. For 'stakeholders,' the Applicant excluded other Government of Alberta departments as well as members of the public who do not represent an organization.
- TBF is late in responding to the fee waiver request, which was due December 7, 2016. Due to this lapse, TBF will not be able to extend the time limit for responding to the request even though one would likely have been permitted by section 14 of the FOIP Act. Given the very large volume of records involved, we anticipate that the response to the request will be late due to our inability to extend the response due date further.
- Despite the Applicant's willingness to modify the request, it is still broad with a focus on "all correspondence including emails and submissions from stakeholders." However, it may be possible that a subset of the requested records are in the public interest and not already available to the public.

[para 4] On June 15, 2017, this Office received the Applicant's request for a review of the Public Body's failure to respond.

II. RECORDS AT ISSUE

[para 5] As the issue in this inquiry relates to the timeliness of the Public Body's response, there are no records at issue.

III. ISSUE

[para 6] The Notice of Inquiry, dated August 2, 2017, states the issue for this inquiry as follows:

Did the Public Body comply with section 11 of the Act (time limit for responding)?

IV. DISCUSSION OF ISSUE

[para 7] Section 11 of the Act requires a public body to make every reasonable effort to respond to an access request no later than 30 days after receiving the request. Section 11 of the Act states:

11(1) The head of a public body must make every reasonable effort to respond to a request not later than 30 days after receiving it unless

- (a) that time limit is extended under section 14, or*
- (b) the request has been transferred under section 15 to another public body.*
- (2) The failure of the head to respond to a request within the 30-day period or any extended period is to be treated as a decision to refuse access to the record.*

[para 8] The Public Body admits that it failed to meet the requirements of section 11. In its submission, the Public Body states that it did not seek permission from this Office to extend the time to respond to the Applicant's request because it failed to meet the time limit for responding to the Applicant's fee waiver request under section 93(4.1), which requires a response within 30 days of receiving the fee waiver request. The Public Body said:

The Public Body failed to meet the time limit required by section 93(4.1). As such, the Public Body did not seek the Information and Privacy Commissioner's permission to extend the time for any of the reasons that would have been permitted under section 14 including: the large volume of records and unreasonable interference with the Public Body's operations (section 14(1)(b)), or the need to consult with other public bodies before deciding whether to grant access to a record (section 14(1)(c)), or the multiple concurrent requests made by the Applicant to the Public Body (section 14(3)).

The Public Body estimates needing another four months to respond to this request.

[para 9] The Public Body provides reasons for the time still needed to finish processing the Applicant's request. It states that it has located 1,200 pages of possibly responsive records, and that FOIP staff are currently undertaking an initial review for responsiveness. It further states:

The Public Body's FOIP office currently has several access requests involving several thousand pages of sensitive records. These requests combined with FOIP request 2016-G-0145, have resulted in an increased demand on FOIP staff, whose expertise is needed. There is no readily available pool of FOIP experts or resources available to step-in and meet this demand at this time. Focusing our FOIP resources onto this one request would result in an inability to respond on time to other access request and additional delays to other late requests.

Demands on the Public Body's FOIP staff are not limited to access requests. We also have the added pressures of other FOIP-related tasks. These other tasks are delayed as a result of the volumes of access requests. In addition, the Public Body provides FOIP services to the Public Service Commission (formerly Corporate Human Resources) and assists Alberta Gaming and Liquor Commission, which also have significant FOIP cases.

Due to the large volume of records involved it would also take a significant time and effort for senior management (who have competing priorities). However, their input is needed so that FOIP staff can understand the records to determine which sections of the FOIP Act might apply.

This Applicant has made several access requests to the Public Body. In 2016, the Applicant submitted 25 access requests to the Public Body. From Jan 1/17 to Aug 25/17, the Applicant made nine access requests (Enclosure - Access Request List, pages 17-29).

Taking into account all of these contributing factors, the Public Body anticipates needing another four months to respond to this request and will [endeavor] to respond before then if possible.

[para 10] The Public Body must make every reasonable effort to respond to an access request in 30 days. It admits that it did not meet this timeline; nor did it extend its timeline under section 14, or seek permission for an extension from this Office (also under section 14).

[para 11] Given the date of the Applicant's access request and other relevant correspondence, and the Public Body's acknowledgement that it did not comply with section 11 of the FOIP Act, I find that the Public Body failed to make every reasonable effort to respond within the timelines provided in the Act.

[para 12] The Public Body has given extensive reasons for requiring approximately four months to finish processing the Applicant's request. In this case, the relevant order-making authority is section 72(3)(a), which authorizes me to require that a duty imposed by the FOIP Act or the regulation be performed by a public body. Under this authority I will order the Public Body to respond to the Applicant as required by the Act, which is the usual order made when a public body fails to meet the requirements of section 11 and has not yet responded to the applicant. The time for complying with an Order is set out in the Act as 50 days (section 74(1)); I cannot alter that time limit set out in the Act.

V. ORDER

[para 13] I make this Order under section 72 of the Act.

[para 14] I find that the Public Body did not respond to the Applicant within the time limit set out in section 11 of the Act. While it is too late for the Public Body to now comply with that section of the Act, I order the Public Body to respond to the Applicant in accordance with the Public Body's remaining duties under the Act.

[para 15] I further order the Public Body to notify me in writing, within 50 days of being given a copy of this Order, that it has complied with the Order.
